Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 8-10, 21-23, and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Yang et al.(U.S.Pat 6,332,880). Yang discloses a loop structure for supporting multiple electrode elements that shows all the features of the claimed invention Figs. 1-4 cols. 7-12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-7 and 24-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yang in view of Thompson et al.(U.S.Pat.6,048,329). Yang discloses a loop structure that shows many of the features of the claimed invention save the explicitly claimed flexible spline. Thompson discloses a catheter distal assembly that shows a flexible spline. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to use a flexible spline as taught by Thomson with the device of Yang to provide stiffness.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8-2-2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument, regarding claim 1, that there is no pull wire in Yang please note fig. 21 and associated description. Applicant's argument, regarding claim 21, that the Yang reference fails to show a loop structure whereby part of a loop structure remains in a plane and part of a loop structure leaves a plane please note that that is true of any loop structure like Yang or Thompson.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 35-37 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Thompson'234, Biggs, and Snoke are cited to show structure similar to the claimed invention.
